FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEW Cooperative Feed Mill Construction Completed

Feed Mill Open House in Lidderdale Marks Completion and Beginning

LIDDERDALE, IOWA- On Thursday, May 27, 2010, Lidderdale residents, NEW Cooperative customers, and special guests will gather to tour the recently constructed, state-of-the-art feed mill. Tours of the facility and its equipment and mixing systems will be given by the feed mill's employee team, and followed by a meal served in the new seed warehouse.

The new feed mill will have a capacity of 200,000 ton annually, and houses the most advanced computer-automated batching systems to increase the efficiency of their service to customers.

Also added to the NEW Cooperative Lidderdale location in the last two years, are three new grain bins and a new leg. The seed warehouse, which was used for the first time this spring, adds great storage ability of seed and chemicals for Lidderdale area agronomy customers.

NEW Cooperative, Inc is a member-owned cooperative with 23 locations throughout the Northwest region of the state. In addition to their continually strong grain services, NEW also offers feed, fertilizer and seed resources through a professional staff and quality facilities. Further agronomic opportunities in soil mapping, site-specific field management and precision technology services are offered through their MAPS department. The service and solutions found at NEW Cooperative demonstrate that they continue to be an innovative and efficient provider for today's producer, carrying with them a proud past and promising future.
